

Was the Big Game Super this year?

The New England Patriots secured their sixth championship by winning the Big Game on Sunday, but just how Super was it? 13-3? I heard a lot about the great defenses. Perhaps, but it seemed to me that the stage was a bit too big for the younger Rams' team. I love the Big Game and always look forward to it, and while I was for the Rams, I was hoping to see a 42-38 type score. What did you think of the game? Tell us your thoughts on the game and, most importantly, the commercials.

Not a lot in the sports world happening over the next two months, so it's time to focus on your golf game. Take some time to watch golf on TV and learn from what you see there. And, come on in to hit some balls at the club to start to knock off the rust as the season approaches.

Start now with an assessment

Be positive about your game

As we move into the 2019 season, we want to help as many of you as possible have a better playing experience. What would be the improvement that would make the most significant difference? Why not list one or two. But be positive about how you express your goal.

"I want to cut out 3-Putts."

"I want to be known as a wizard on the greens."

"I want to lose my fear of bunkers."

"I want to be able to get up and down from greenside sand."

*"I want to cure
my slice."*

"I want to hit longer tee shots hitting fairways more often."

The list on the left is about removing a negative. That's a much less powerful, ongoing motivator, than going positively towards something (as expressed on the right).
Even more powerful is connecting that positive thought to an emotional feeling you want to experience.

Think about this now

What would you want to be able to do with your golf game? What would you like to be able to achieve with an improved technique? Why not try and write it down?
