Feel the thrill

Two steps to the ride of your life

Generating longer distance from the tee with a perfect strike is made a lot easier if you're playing with two components fitted for your tee shot.

The shaft flex and the way the shaft performs needs to match both your clubhead speed and how you "load" the shaft. Do you have an even tempo or do you start back aggressively?

The clubhead design needs to work with your swing speed and strike pattern to transfer your clubhead speed into the maximum ball speed on the best trajectory with the optimum spin rate.

Center of Gravity location

CoG location has a much greater impact on launch angle and spin rate than golfers imagine.

Hitting zone size and location

This is an obvious search for golfers. Some drivers are designed to better accommodate certain strike patterns.

Loft

Loft is again an obvious selection criteria, but it's a selection that needs to take into account the shaft and CoG location.

We're delivering thrills

Creating the perfect match of ball speed, launch angle, and spin rate, maximises the distance you'll get off the tee. A change of just 1° and 500rpm can unlock 20 yards. How much potential can we unlock for you?

Act now.

The Par 3 Advantage

Knowing how to use hybrids

The hybrid was invented to provide regular golfers with distance and consistency with longer shots. More forgiving and easier to use.

But we've picked up a lot of uncertainty amongst golfers on how to use hybrids. From the fairway, is it played like an iron or a fairway wood? And, is it the same when you tee up the ball?

You'll find a lot of Par 3's that are in the long iron/hybrid distance area. It's deliberate. On at least one or more of the holes the course designer wants to test the longer end of your approach-shot-bag. Make your hybrids your favorite clubs by learning how to use a hybrid from the tee and the fairway.

It changes the game.

Make Par 3 improvement a priority

Technique matters. It helps to make your playing experience as enjoyable as possible. Golf becomes more fun. Be proud of your technique. Be as good as you can be.
