

View online for a better experience

Subscribe | Unsubscribe

Download a printer friendly copy

Friday, May 03, 2024

Email Rick | rickkrebs@greensidegolfer.com | Tel: 443-286-1986

Improve your course management

You'll be faced with a course management challenge on all approach shots, not just Par 3's. Try playing a round where you take a 'safety first' approach to every shot.

Check out your score. Is it an improvement if you play within yourself?

Course management is an important part of your game; if you'd be interested in an accompanied round to help with your course management,

Contact us >

9-Hole Playing Lessons are now available with Rick Krebs.

You can practice all you want on the Range, but until you actually get out onto the course you are not really "playing" golf.

The easiest way to improve is still out on the course.

Book a 9-Hole Playing Lesson with Rick and start improving now!

Don't go dormant this winter

It is a great time of the year for all-round improvement.

Find out what is helping you keep from playing a better golf game with our New Student Assessment

Find out what is holding you back from playing a better golf game with our new Student Assessment.

Sign up for a 60-minute full swing analysis, short game and putting analysis, and recommended coaching plan.

These take place all through fall and when spring rolls around you will be READY with your new game!

Contact Rick or call/text 443-286-1986

The number one

Step to more great shots

Your approach shot accuracy depends on you squaring the face to the target line.

You must have the right Lie angles for your golf swing.

The sole will be square to the turf at impact. You'll be straighter.

Lie angle too upright

Lie angle too flat

If the toe is up (vs. the heel), then your face will end up at the top of the club face (vs. the bottom of the club face).

If the heel is up (vs. the toe), then your face will end up at the bottom of the club face (vs. the top of the club face).

automatically point to the left (for right-handers), you're missing before you start.

automatically point to the right (for right-handers). Perfectly aligned, great swing, you're still missing right?

We want you to hit more great shots

Let us help you hit more great shots. Let us check out your lie angles. Get that right, and you'll be amazed at how much more accurate you are. This applies to all golfers. Why waste a great swing?

Contact us >

Your wedge and ball flight

Shooting it in lower

If you watch golf on TV, you will have noticed that the best players have a low-to-mid trajectory on their wedge shots. They try and avoid the 'Hail Mary', hit-it-high and drop-it- dead shot, unless there's no other option.

If you watch the best golfers play this shot, you'll notice they seem to nip the turf (rather than carving out a divot), and they then seem to have a shorter follow-through.

When we see golfers trying to play this shot on the range, many move the ball back in their stance and play with a steeper angle of attack, under the impression that will create more spin.

Actually a shallow angle of attack with clean contact creates more spin.

Come and learn to control ball flight

Being able to shoot the ball in with a slightly lower trajectory and the spin to check the ball quickly, makes distance control so much easier.

Come and learn how to play this shot.

Contact us >

Share

This mail was sent to {{contact.contact_email}} by Rick Krebs and is provided as a service for the members and guests of Rick Krebs Golf Channel Academy and has been supported and sponsored by advertisers in this email and our partner suppliers.

For any queries contact us on 443-286-1986.

Sent on behalf of Rick Krebs Golf Channel Academy by RetailTribe: 15851 Dallas Parkway | Suite 600 | Addison | TX 75001 | +1 972 380 3002

Trouble viewing this newsletter? View it online | Download a printer friendly copy

Subscribe here | Unsubscribe here