A great performance by Pettersen

Team golf is becoming increasingly popular.

If you followed the Solheim Cup, then you'll know it doesn't get any better.

Our girls and the Europeans fought out an incredible last afternoon. It culminated with Europe's Suzann Pettersen standing over an 8-foot putt. Miss it and the match is tied, and the Cup is retained by the US. But, with the putt dropping, Europe had the smallest of victories: 14½ to 13½.

And guess what? Pettersen immediately announced her retirement from professional golf!

We hope that this week you have your best-ever experience on a golf course. But we rather hope that will encourage you to continue to improve, rather than deciding that's as good as it gets. If we can help, contact us.

Spin: friend or foe?

This impacts better players too

Last week we showed how many golfers have a simple swing fault that is robbing them of 21 yards. They strike their tee shots with a slightly descending blow (just 5°) rather than a slightly ascending blow.

One of the characteristics of better players is a better swing, but it's also often a faster swing speed. However, when we look at most of our better golfers, while they don't strike the ball on the tee with a descending blow, they're often "neutral", so even for them, the distance they're being robbed of is substantial.

Clubhead speed	Angle of attack	Launch angle	Spin rate	Total distance
100mph	0°	10°	2,600rpm	278 yards
100mph	5° up	12.5°	1,900rpm	293 yards

Don't let spin rob you

Book an assessment with us and let's find your personal launch DNA: the perfect match of launch and spin for the ball speed you're creating.

CHILDREN LEARN AS THEY PLAY

That's why play is a serious business.

We take that principle to heart. That's why along with skills development we want our juniors playing. Not just traditional golf, but all sorts of games that will not only develop a range of skills but will help them fall in love with the game for a lifetime.

Sign your children up for one of our fun junior golf programs. We'll set them on the pathway to a lifelong love affair with the game.
