Develop your essential golf skills

- 1) Ball-then-turf contact.
- 2) Control the club path.
- 3) Control the clubface.

If you are struggling with hitting fat or thin shots, start with a 60-minute assessment with Lead Coach Rick Krebs, a map for success, actionable feedback, and the confidence to move forward with your coaching program.

That's an excellent equation for success.

We want you to continue discovering your great golfing moments!

Join me for a new student assessment

Solid contact is king.

These essentials will help you improve your game!

Come see me and let's plan out your personal road to improvement.

Call or text 443-286-1986 or email rickkrebsgolf@yahoo.com.

Why do you want to get better?

What would your #1 reason be to get better at golf? What would most motivate you to put in a short period of "learning and practice" to improve your golf game? What is the result you'd most like to achieve with an improvement? And finally, how much improvement do you think you could make?

Try and answer those questions WITHOUT thinking about winning competitions or lowering a handicap. Let us know what you think.
