

Mother used to say

"Use your time wisely!"

And you thought you didn't need to listen anymore.

If you have an hour and three clubs, you can go to the Driving Range and hit a bucket of balls until you feel better.
But will your game have improved at all?

Most likely not!

Why not?

Here are a few reasons:

- 1) You are hitting the same club again and again.
- 2) You are aiming for the same target every time.
- 3) You are doing what's comfortable.
- 4) Chances are you are doing something incorrectly. But you are practicing the same incorrect movement again and again.

On the golf course, every shot counts.

Every shot has a consequence.

If you don't face new problems, you will never learn.

Have you ever been on the golf course with a Certified Golf Coach to see where your game is one shot at a time?

Let's set up a 9-hole playing and coaching session.

You will play better, shoot lower scores and have more fun.
