Centre of Gravity (CoG) matters

So much written hype

How often do you read about amazing new driver crowns or faces that allow the CoG in any club to be made lower and deeper? They promise “easier launch” and “greater distance”.

The authors of these shrieking product headlines are right, but the definition of deeper or lower is marginal. A Golf Spy analysis revealed that the difference in CoG location between the CoG in a Titleist D2 Driver and a Callaway GBB Epic Driver (depending on setup) was less than 2mm!

PHYSICS AND GOLF

2mm matters

But the difference in the CoG vertical location of just 2mm means that the amount of backspin imparted on the ball will be significantly different.

LAUNCH DNA

Measured in tens of metres

Change the spin just 500rpm on a tee shot and with some swing speeds you have a 20-metre difference. That's why you need a fitting.

Fix your millimetres and metres

Get every metre off the tee your potential deserves. Come and have a tee shot assessment and let's see how we can add 20, 30 and even more metres to your tee shots.

A better life for them

Have we reached a crisis point?

Our children are becoming slaves to social media. A 2016 study in North America concluded that the AVERAGE number of social messages a teenage girl processes in a day is 1,700. Yes, seventeen hundred.

Unbelievable, isn't it?

How do you process SEVENTEEN HUNDRED messages per day and do everything else? You need the hieroglyphics of the 21st century.

Let us add balance to their lives

Have your child enroll into  sessions to learn to play golf, and we'll have them outdoors learning new skills, and having a whole stack of fun they can take outside the golf course. They won't stop playing computer games, but for a couple of hours each time we'll have them off the phone, out from in front of the screen, engaging in fun activity.
