Is your equipment helping you to play better?

There was an issue recently where a Tour player's driver was deemed non-conforming. It failed the Characteristic Time (CT) test. There's a message here for all golfers.

But first, drivers are conforming if they test at 239 milliseconds (on the face) with a tolerance of 18 milliseconds. That means the limit is set at 257 milliseconds. This driver tested at 245 and then 255 and finally at 258 and so minutes. This driver tested at 210 and then 200 and finally at 200 and so was deemed non-conforming. The brand and the professional weren't trying to cheat. They were trying to make sure their equipment was competitive.

The message I would want to pass on is that you should be trying to make sure that any equipment you buy is making you as 'competitive' as possible without breaking the rules. That means exploiting technology. It also means getting fitted. Use the technology for your swing. Contact us.

Center of Gravity (CoG) matters

It's why an assessment and fitting matters

If two drivers with exactly the same loft and shaft can have a difference of 20 plus yards in how far you hit the ball off the tee, then there's one irrefutable conclusion.

What you should be buying is yards NOT a driver. Yes, every time you're buying a driver, we should be helping you to find the configuration that maximizes your ball speed and then matches that to an angle of launch and spin rate on the ball to get you the biggest distance improvement without you losing control.

You want a CoG in your driver that gets you here and not just here.

Matching swing speed, ball speed, launch angle, and spin rate on tee shots, will make upwards of 40 yards of difference for some golfers. How much difference would it make to you?

Come and grab some yards

Get every yard off the tee your potential deserves. Come and have a tee shot assessment and let's see how we can add 20, 30 and even more yards to your tee shots.

It's time to do something

Everyone benefits

Scientific research indicates that, despite the medical advances that are curing many diseases, the life-expectancy of the latest generation is going to be 5 years less than we currently live!

Last week we reported on the alarming rise in type-2 diabetes in children, youths, and teens.

We promoted golf as part of an active lifestyle. Well guess what? "Golf is proven to be great for your health over your whole lifetime."

Golf and Health and the University of Edinburgh published an infographic that highlighted the level of reduced risk of chronic health conditions if you have an active lifestyle.

If you didn't think that golf was an active lifestyle then note just how active it is.

Help your family live an active lifestyle

So, as well as improving the life of a child or grandchild, introducing golf to a spouse or sibling whatever their age will improve their lifestyle and contribute to a longer and better life. It's time to do something.
