Ali's Coaching Corner

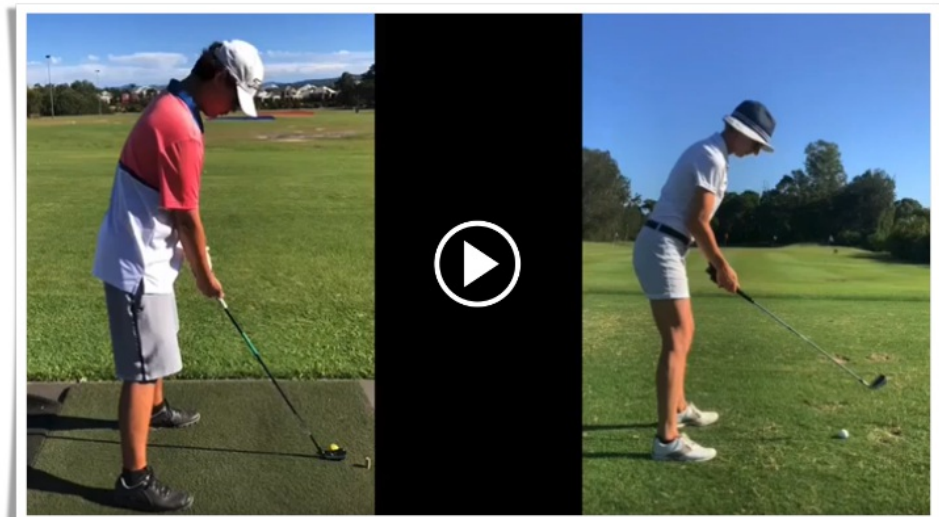

Tom achieved his personal best

Tom had his first online lesson and followed it with his first ever score in the 70s, along with a Friday win at the Glades. Well done Tom!

Work on your game from home

Take a look at an example of an online lesson in the video below.

Make sure you subscribe to Ali's YouTube channel while you're there for more golf tips and motivation.

How our online lessons work

See a step by step process on how an online lesson works. The best part about online lessons are the fact that you get to keep the comparison images and video on your phone or computer, so that you can review them whenever you need.

4 SIMPLE STEPS TO OUR NEW ONLINE LESSON STRUCTURE

ALI ORCHARD GOLF COACHING

You choose what we are working on. It can be anything including Putting, Chipping, Wedge Play, Bunkers, Irons and Woods.

1. Send through 2 videos of what you would like to work on. The videos need to be taken from 2 angles which are shown below. These must be sent through at least 15 minutes before our scheduled lesson time.
2. Along with the two swing videos, I will need a description of your main concern and a specific goal you would like to achieve.

Behind position down the line towards target

Side Position

3. Once I have received the video's I will spend 10 minutes placing your video next to a professional and talk you through a step by step what is happening with your swing and what we need to do too achieve our desired result. I will then send the video back to you which you will be able to review and hold onto.

4. 10 minutes after I send you the video, I will give you a phone call if you are able to have your earphones in and talk to me while you continue practicing this would be ideal; however not essential. If you are unable to practice we will use Facetime to discuss your new goal and then I can demonstrate drills.

A year for a journey shared

Golf is meant to be a journey shared. In fact, well over 50% of golfers say that “fun with friends” is MUCH more important than being super competitive. Golf is a ‘human’ pastime. This year threatened our humanity. So we want to put more friendship, more social, back into golf while encouraging you to reach new heights TOGETHER.

We’re looking for between 6 – 12 golfers to start a shared journey. From the 80s into the 70s on your scorecard. We want you to be the master of many golfing skills.

We want you to make new friendships forged by a common goal and grown by fun experience. We want you to encourage and nurture others on the pathway, while being humble enough to be nurtured and encouraged yourself.

This is going to be fun

At the end of this journey, you'll have new friends, new playing partners, and a new feeling for the game. This will change everything for you. This will make 2020 a crazy good year, when until now it has only seemed crazy. Talk to us about this plan.

Line it up. What a feeling.

Dropping putts is a great feeling, especially when your playing partner wasn't expecting it. But what if you were expecting it, time after time?

"Manufacturers and designers know that when it comes to alignment, your eyes can't be trusted. That's why so much effort goes into alignment aids. They want to help you set up accurately and then to make contact perfectly square to your target line."

Head balance is another feature of putter design that helps you square the face at impact. It needs to fit your "arc". Combine alignment aids and a putter head that matches your stroke, and you're going to experience more joy.

Experience elation more often

Aim, setup, putt, roll, drop. There are ways to make that easier. What if we could help you nail more putts? If that matters to you, then when we next see you, let's talk about this or
