

From the Founder's Desk

I hope you are all enjoying your enforced time at home with a balance of productivity, relaxation and family time.

The BSI staff have been working hard to prepare for the start of cycle 2 next Tuesday, with 100% remote learning swinging into action to start the cycle off. It has been great to see the whole staff embrace the challenges head on, and adapt and grow to the current circumstances. To keep the students occupied during their current break, the coaching staff have already been providing home training plans and technical analysis.

I've also put together some ideas on productive training during this time.

See my blog 8 things golfers can work on during lockdown further down the page.

Remote Coaching

Your journey to better golf is just a click away

Remote coaching is the order of the day at the moment, with the BSI coaching staff interacting with our students through a coaching app that we have used for many years called CoachNow. See below some examples of what we are doing.

Did you know that we offer ongoing remote coaching programmes for anyone, anywhere in the world using the same technology? Click here for full details of the various options.
