Morten Bredahl

Class AA PGA Professional

"Achieving the necessary impact for consistent ball control is always related to the body - swing connection. I believe coaching must follow a holistic approach to optimize high performance. There is no one method or swing style for all golfers. Rather, developing an efficient and repeatable motion based on the student's own movement patterns"

New irons now?

It's not just

TECHNOLOGY THAT HELPS

If you're over 50, while logic says age must be slowing you down, technology is changing the game for you. You can hit higher and longer iron shots with less requirement for the strength of youth. A note of caution: you do want accuracy.

Many golfers live with relatively poor accuracy with anything over a #9 iron. They believe that it's their own swing that lets them down. But too often, it's an incorrect lie angle that causes the face angle to twist when the toe hits the turf first. This tilts the spin axis of the golf ball. The ball goes right.

YOU'VE GOT LESS THAN AN INCH TO GET THIS RIGHT

During less than an inch of the contact zone, the sole needs to be square to the turf. A fitted iron makes that possible. And the result is a much better and much more accurate ball strike.

Could you be getting better?

Don't settle. Golf has so much more to offer each of you. Technology that makes you better with fitting the clubs you need means your best golf is ahead of you.

Has 'hope'
BEEN LOST

We all stand over 145-metre approach shots with hope, but that hope can be quickly traded for acceptance if shot after shot is far from perfect. And acceptance is a threat to the flame of our desire.

If we want to sustain hope, if we want our flame of desire to burn bright, then we need to take action. We must take action.

FAN THE FLAME AND COMMIT TO ACTION

Think about what it would take for you to experience the joy of perfection from 145-metres more frequently. What would it require from your game? Playing more regularly? Some practice? Fitted irons? Improved technique?

Fan the flame, take the best action

The best starting point is an assessment. We can match your desire with a plan of action.
