

Ryder Cup 2020

The stage was set for an amazing day. Both the Red Team and the Blue Team had the pairings and speeches and were ready to go. I felt that we were ready to go, but alas, the team stormed out on the field of battle like a Jayhawk charging to play a Chanticleer.

Unfortunately for the Blue Team, the fate was like that of the Jayhawks. The 2020 Ryder Cup was a thorough whooping in all three sessions. The Red Team stormed out to a 21 to 11 lead after the Four Ball match and never looked back as they were increasing their lead in the foursome and the Singles matches.

As always, the Ryder Cup was an awesome day and for once we finally had some great weather for it as well. Dustin and Nate are taking major credit for the turn-around of their Red team that has now taken a 4 to 3 lead in the overall standings of this event. The Blue Team will have to go back to the drawing board and come up with a better plan for 2021 and beyond! Thank you very much to all of our participants and congratulations to the 2020 Ryder Cup Champions!

Results

(Click to enlarge)

2020 Ryder Cup

Singles Leaderboard

2020 Ryder Cup

Pos.	Team	4 Ball	4somes	Singles	Points
1	Red Team	21.00	17.50	32.00	70.50
2	Blue Team	11.00	14.50	32.00	57.50
Total Points in Individual Tournaments: 128.00

You deserve sharper How's your stopping power?

The biggest difference between scratch and bogey golfers is not fairways or greens in regulation. It's the ability to get up and down with fewer shots.

And to do that, you need easy access to spin.

From 40 metres out, your priority is to get as close to the pin as possible. If you're playing with a worn wedge, your ball can roll out an extra 10- to 15-feet. That makes it more difficult to get up and down.

Experience the difference

New wedges launch lower, spin more and stop sooner. If you think your wedges are causing you to lose stopping power and drop shots, then when we next see you, let's talk about it, or we can also

Start a conversation now >

Can this fix your slice?

This is the most point, aim, and fire driver we've ever used. It also has a face that is fully prepared for contact anywhere. We would usually tell you to watch a promotional video, but on this occasion, we want you to be part of that process. Discover straight.

Contact us >

Par 3 strategy

Got a tee-up strategy?

How you tee up on par 3s can be the difference between a solid par or birdie and a struggle to minimize the damage to just a bogey.

Distance is affected

Teeing up too high can cause you to strike the ball high up on the club face and lose ball speed. So even if your club selection was spot on, you'd still fall short of the green.

If you're taking a short iron on a par 3, tee your ball up lower, think level with the blades of grass. With a long iron, you'll want to go fractionally higher, as though the ball is lying atop a fluffy fairway.

Finding the best angle

Position yourself at a spot on the tee box that gives you the best angle into the green. You'll need to base this on your natural shot pattern as well as the wind direction and strength.

Hit more greens

Let's schedule some time on the course and help you make better decisions that will put you into more scoring positions.

Let's play 9 >

Share

This mail was sent to {{contact.contact_email}} by Ryan Fitzpatrick and is provided as a service for the members and guests of Country Club of Leawood and has been supported and sponsored by advertisers in this email and our partner suppliers. For any queries contact us on (913) 491-1313.

*Sent on behalf of Country Club of Leawood by
RetailTribe: 15851 Dallas Parkway | Suite 600 | Addison | TX | 75001 | +1 972 380 3002*

Trouble viewing this newsletter? View it online | Download a printer friendly copy
Subscribe here | Unsubscribe here