We are open

We are open for lessons on the range and short game area again but still not on the course or in the studio currently.

Step out and enjoy
An escape that's full of fun.

During this stressful time, with its disruptions both personal and economic, we need an escape. It's times like these that a golf course becomes more than just 18 holes. It becomes a source of comfort and joy.

"Walking reduces stress, bolsters the immune system and improves circulation. One round of golf gets you 10,000 steps and several hours of joy."

This goes beyond your scorecard

Why not leave your golf bag and scorecard behind? Take a short iron, wedge and putter and play each hole from 120 yards. No unreachable greens, doglegs or narrow fairways. Just fresh air and fun. We're in this together. If you want to get out and have some fun on the course,

It doesn't matter the handicap; your scorecard will be significantly influenced by your control of the ball in the final 80 yards.

Work on your shorter-game technique. Make sure you have an integrated 'wedge set' – “your scoring clubs”. Play with wedges that make it easier to control the ball and hit consistent distances.

The Vokey SM8 Wedges have design features that improve accuracy and control. There is also a treatment that improves the durability of the grooves.

No more three putts.

Could this be why you slipped by?

The face angle of your putter at contact has between 80 and 95% influence on the launch direction of your putt. That means a tiny error could cause you to slip by the hole, even with great tempo. When the face has such a huge impact on your putting accuracy, we need to square that face.

Club path also affects accuracy, albeit less than face angle. For instance, if you have a slightly closed face angle but an in-to-out path, you could still launch the ball straight. Other factors to consider are lie angle and contact point. There's a lot going on here, that's why it's best to get your putter fitted for your stroke and setup.
