A word from Pierre

Another busy week at the Country Club as we shape up for season. The golf course remains the main focus and with summer here, you can hear the grass grow. I played on Wednesday with the members in the competition and it was my first round out after the hollow-tining, I was pleasantly surprised with how well the greens recovered over the last few weeks. The coverage is there and the greens are looking healthy and rolling very nicely. As we get closer to season, we will speed them up a little more. I think by the time Club Champs arrive our course will be in tournament condition.

I took some wonderful pictures of the course over the last week. You can also see in some of the pictures the wonderful work out Maintenance team is currently doing out there. Thank you to Clinton and his dedicated team.

Bookings open for Club Champs

Speaking of Club Champs, remember to enter, we are planning to make the day extra special for our members.

- The Championship will be played over one day (17th December 2023). A-Division participants will play 36 holes.
- Juniors with a handicap index of 7.5 and lower may participate in the Men's A Division – but will not be eligible to also participate in the Junior Division – please ensure to communicate when entering if they would be participating in the Junior or Men's A Division.
- Entries will close on 11 December 2023 – no exceptions.
- The draw will be made available to all participants on 15 December 2023 – the draw is final, and no changes will be permitted unless of extenuating circumstances communicated to the tournament organizing committee.

Handicap and Division breakdown:

A – Division - 0 to 7.5 handicap index – (36 Holes) Medal

B – Division - 7.6 to 13.0 handicap index – (18 Holes) IPS

Time doesn't have to be a reason

People who've left the game often cite not having enough time to play.

Many turn to other activities to stay active. It doesn't have to be that way.

Getting a gym workout in before or after work generally takes about 90 minutes. That's about the same time it takes to play 9 holes. But the difference is that with golf, you're getting much more than just physical exercise.

Playing 9 holes twice a week gives you physical and outdoor benefits, along with a social experience. And it doesn't even have to be 9 holes. You can head out for a quick 4 or 6 holes. There's more to staying healthy than just movement. Being outdoors and being part of a social group are critical to health and wellbeing.

If you know anyone you think should get back into golf, bring them down, send them to us, or give us their details and we'll reach out personally to re-introduce them to the game.

The right equipment helps

You're forgiven

The design of Putters does so much to aid alignment and aim. But in many cases an off-centre ball strike leads to a slight twisting (that impacts aim) and a real loss of speed (impacting distance control).

The Cleveland Frontline Putters solve the alignment challenge but also, using a weight forward design, create a much higher MOI to resist twisting and improve distance control.

There are different options to support your specific putting stroke. Are you straight back and through? Or do you have an Arc; and how strong is it?

What would improve your putting?

If you're struggling with either control over the distance you hit putts or finding yourself missing the cup with makeable birdie opportunities, then there may be an equipment solution.
